

Volunteer agreement

A warm welcome to the Danish Refugee Council. We are pleased that you want to join us as a volunteer!

This Volunteer Agreement includes a brief introduction to the Danish Refugee Council and some practical information as well as the principles for our voluntary activities. To register as a volunteer with the Danish Refugee Council you must agree to these principles.

A dignified life for all refugees and displaced people around the globe

As a volunteer with the Danish Refugee Council, you will be part of Denmark's largest NGO. We are present in 28 countries worldwide to protect, advocate for, and create sustainable futures for refugees and other displaced people. Our vision is a dignified life for all who are forced to flee. However, our roots are in Denmark, where, for over 60 years, we have put refugee rights on the agenda. We cooperate with other NGOs, civil society organisations, local authorities, other public authorities, and foundations to improve opportunities for refugees and displaced persons.

Our largest programme in Denmark is the nationwide volunteer network, that supports around 30,000 people each year. This includes support with the Danish language, building social networks, organising leisure activities, homework help, job seeking and applying for study programmes, accessing and navigating digital services, identifying the right people to contact and keeping morale high in difficult times. This support often leads to meaningful relationships and friendships.

Join the community

Volunteering with the Danish Refugee Council, you become part of a community committed to making a difference for refugees and people with ethnic minority backgrounds in Denmark. It is a community built on democratic values through local associations and volunteer groups and supported by the Danish Refugee Council. We hope that you get off to a good start as a volunteer and that you find opportunities to participate in the local community and make a positive impact.

Historical highlights

Transport subsidies

You may receive support for transport between your home and your volunteer activity.

As a volunteer

You are legally obliged to report any concerns involving children in distress, sexual exploitation, abuse, or harassment.

Reporting misconduct

Danish Refugee Council's code of conduct

Danish Refugee Council has a code of conduct that applies to all staff and volunteers. The purpose of the CoC is to protect the people we work with. If you witness - or suspect - any form of sexual exploitation, abuse of power, harassment, or other serious misconduct by volunteers or Danish Refugee Council staff, we ask that you report it. Details: frivillig.drc.ngo/rapportering

Danish Refugee Council will then assess how to proceed. This does not replace your legal duty to report to the authorities.

Mandatory reporting

Mandatory reporting to the local authorities

All citizens in Denmark, are legally obliged to report to the local authorities if they become aware that a child is subject to neglect or degrading treatment or is living under conditions that may endanger their health or development. The authorities will then assess what measures, if any, should be taken. Reports can be made anonymously.

More info on borger.dk and our website.

Uncertain?

If you are unsure about how to fulfil your reporting obligations or how to report to the Danish Refugee Council, please contact your regional advisor/project manager or the Head of Volunteer Engagement, Lone Tinor-Centi at: lone.tinor-centi@drc.ngo.

Principles

We aim to provide a safe environment for both you and those you help, while ensuring participants receive the best support possible. As such, we ask you to follow these principles:

Equality

Meet others with respect and openness to differences.

You are not alone

Speak with fellow volunteers and always contact the Danish Refugee Council if you're in doubt or facing challenges.

Involvement

Involve those you help so they maintain ownership over decisions and their lives.

Refer to professionals

Refer participants to the professionals and authorities who can provide appropriate assistance.

Independence

Your voluntary engagement must remain independent of political, religious, and similar interests.

Confidentiality

You must not share information about others without their consent. This also applies after your volunteer period ends.

Advocacy

You are welcome to advocate for refugee issues locally. However, you must not speak on behalf of the Danish Refugee Council as an organisation.

Data protection

If you handle personal data, you must follow our data protection guidelines for personal data. Read more about data protection and GDPR on the website.

Financial boundaries

You must not cover personal expenses or engage in financial transactions with those you support.

Child protection

If you regularly interact with children under 15, read our child safeguarding guidelines. We obtain child protection certificates (børneattest) for all volunteers in activities with children in this age group. Read more about child protection on the website.

Sexual relationships

You must not engage in a sexual relationship with participants while volunteering with the Danish Refugee Council.

Substances

You must not serve or consume alcohol or other substances during Danish Refugee Council activities involving participants.
